COMMITTEE ON COURT ROOM.

The Wasatch Building Inspected and Pronounced Safe.

Various wild and exaggerated rumors were flying around town yesterday, to the effect that the portion of the Wasatch building occupied as the Federal Court Room had been condemned as being unsafe—that it had settled several inches the night previously, and that account the judges had refused to hold session there. These rumors caused quite a number of people to visit the building yesterday, all of whom undoubtedly expected to behold a very serious state of affairs. A committee of three was appointed to inspect the part of the building referred to, and the following certificate is the result of their investigations:

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 21, 1886.

We, the undersigned, having been called upon to examine that part of the Wasatch building in which is held the Federal Court, do hereby certify that we have examined the same and find that nearly the same conditions that now exist in said building, have existed for several years past to our personal knowledge, and the slight change of conditions does not in our judgment endanger life or property; therefore we are satisfied that there is no cause for alarm.

PROVO POINTS.

WHILE we had good weighing the weather was too cold for us to enjoy it. WE UNDERSTAND that the road through Provo Canyon is so effectively blocked by a snow-slide that it is rather difficult for people to pass with any kind of vehicle.

SINCE our Provo members of the Utah County Delegation have vanished from our gaze, everything seems dull and staid. Even the boy coming of the Postoffice is no longer interesting, and we do not have much of any amusement.

THE PILLARS supporting the galleries in the new State Cabaret were cast at the shops of the Provo Foundry & Machine Company, Lee Whitehead superintendent. The company has taken such pay as was contributed, and teams have lately been sent around in different ways to collect old scraps of cast-iron for this purpose. The machine company has done this work partially for the reputation to be gained by it, and we regard it as a very proper subject for notice.

Scrofula of Lungs

Relieved.

I am now 49 years old, and have suffered for the last fifteen years with a lung trouble. Several members of the family on my mother's side of the house had died with consumption, and the doctors were all agreed in their opinion that I had consumption also. I had all the distressing symptoms of that terrible disease. I have spent thousands of dollars to arrest the march of this disease; I have employed all of the usual methods, not only in my own case, but in the treatment of other members of my family, but temporary relief was all that I obtained. I was unfit for any manual labor for seven years. By chance I came in possession of a pamphlet on "Blood and Skin Disease," from the office of Swift's Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga. A friend recommended the use of Swift's Specific, claiming that he himself had been greatly benefited by its use in some lung troubles. I resolved to try it. About four years ago I commenced to take S.S.S. according to direction. I found it an invigorating tonic, and have used about fifty bottles. The results are most remarkable. My cough has left me, my strength has returned, and I weigh sixty pounds more than I ever did in my life. It has been three years since I stopped the use of the medicine, but I have and no return of the disease, and there are no pains and weakness felt in my lungs. I do the hardest kind of mechanical work, and feel as well as I ever felt since I was a boy. These, I know, are wonderful statements to make, but I am honest when I say that I owe my existence and health to-day to Swift's Specific. It is the only medicine that brought me any permanent relief. I do not say that Swift's Specific will do this in every case, but most positively affirm that it has done this much for me, and I would be recreant to the duty I owe to the suffering humanity if I failed to bear this cheerful testimony to the merits of this wonderful medicine. I am well known in the city of Montgomery, and I can refer to some of the best citizens in the city.
